ZAP GAMES

WELCOME TO THE ZAP GAMES 2023.

Soon Black Friday will return - an annual consumerism feeding-frenzy forced on us by retail capitalism, squashed between other sprees such as 'Amazon Prime Day' and Christmas.

No matter that we're in a cost of living crisis, that the world is drowning in plastic pollution and our houses overflowing with electronic waste - the message from the advertisers is clear: "Keep Buying"

This November 2023, we invite you to take creative action against the outdoor advertising industry - and their world. We want to reduce the noise of consumerism and the endless incitement that buying more things will make us happy. Let's reclaim our public spaces in favour of human connection.

ZAP GAMES

Z.A.P (Zone Anti-Publicité) is french for Anti-Advertising Zone. It is a framework for taking action against the outdoor advertising industry originating in the streets of Belgium in 2020.

HOW TO PARTICIPATE:

1. Look through this guide for inspiration for new ideas.
2. Form an 'affinity group' with 1 or more friends + comrades.
3. Take action against corporate outdoor advertising spaces (billboards, digital ad screens, etc) however you like.
4. Report your action at www.subvertisers-international.net/ZAP
5. Attend the celebration Awards Ceremony in person on Saturday 25 October 2023 in London if you can.

ZAPGAMES

Everyone is invited to take part in the Games however you wish. Your action could be as simple as using stickers and tape to interrupt marketing slogans on posters, turning off the lights of an advertising billboard, re-purposing an ad stand with greenery and nature, or removing the posters from hundreds of ad sites to reduce the volume of commercial consumerism in our lives.

Remember to photograph your action and submit it at www.subvertisers-international.net/ZAPGames

In the third round of the ZAP Games in November 2022, groups from the world participated in actions in their own towns and cities.

In 2023, Belgium will continue to host their original ZAP Games.

What do we mean by consumerism?

Consumerism has several definitions, including:

“the situation when too much attention is given to buying and owning things, often things that are not really necessary.”

It has been a key feature of capitalist economies for over 100 years - but accelerated in the 1980s. Beyond what's needed to lift us out of poor living standards, the notion that a constant acquisition of material items will improve our wellbeing has been debunked for its environmental impacts and its false promise of fulfillment.

What is 'détournement'?

'Détournement' is french for 're-routing' or 'hijacking'. It is a term popularised by the Situationist International in the 1950s onwards (from whom the Subvertisers International borrow our name).

It has been used by the anti-advertising movement for decades and defined as:

"turning expressions of the capitalist system and its media culture against itself as when slogans and logos are turned against their advertisers or the political status quo."
